Brief Information About Personal Data Processing During Claims Settlement constitutes a part of this form (see last page).

Brief Information About Personal Data Processing During Claims Settlement

We hereby provide you with brief information about the processing of your personal data by our company during claims settlement. Further details can be found at www.generaliceska.cz in the Personal data section, or we will provide the details to you at our points of sale.

1. Who is the administrator of your personal data?

The administrator of your personal data is Generali Česká pojišťovna a.s., Company ID No. 452 72 956, with Registered Office at Spálená 75/16, Nové Město, 110 00 Prague 1, Czech Republic.

2. Which data about you do we process?

We process the following during claims settlement:

- Your identification and contact data (your email address and phone number are not obligatory, but if you do provide them, our communication will be faster and more efficient),
- data which you provided to us during claims settlement regardless of whether communication was conducted in person, in writing, by telephone or otherwise;
- payment details (e.g., account number for payment of the insurance benefit),
- data determined in accordance with the valid legal regulations while investigating the insured event (we obtain data based on the nature of the insured event and through our own investigations, but also from other entities such as the police, fire brigade, policyholders, insured parties, doctors and publicly accessible sources, lists and records).

3. Do we process data about your health?

We will process data about your health if it is required to determine, exercise or defend legal claims, in particular, for the purpose of settling claims arising from insurance covering the event of illness or from insurance against financial loss.

4. Do we need your special consent to process personal data?

We do not need your consent to process personal data during claims settlement.

5. Why do we process your data?

• Fulfilment of legal obligations

Many legal regulations oblige us to process your personal data (to varying degrees). For instance, we need your data to meet the obligations required by regulations governing the distribution of insurance, the insurance industry or measures to counter money laundering and financing of terrorism. We are also obliged to provide cooperation to courts, prosecution authorities, tax administrators, the Czech National Bank in its capacity as the supervisory authority and bailiffs, etc. We are obliged to perform our insurance activity with due diligence, which is why we process personal data to ensure due administration of the insurance contract, administration of insurance including changes, settlement claims including possible provision of assistance services if arranged, and for our mutual communication.

• Protection of our legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of third parties

We may also process personal data in relation to claims settlement due to legitimate interests consisting in:

- risk evaluation and management,
- quality management of services provided and customer relations,

- performance of contracts in your favour,
- internal administrative purposes (e.g., internal records, reporting),
- to protect our legal claims (e.g., during the recovery of our receivables relating to the insured event and arranged insurance, under judicial proceedings or proceedings with authorities responsible for out-of-court resolution of disputes, with the Czech National Bank or other public authorities),
- prevention and detection of insurance fraud and other illegal conduct.

6. Who is the recipient of the personal data?

In justified cases and strictly in the necessary scope, we provide your personal data to the following categories of recipients:

- other insurance companies in accordance with the law for the purpose of preventing and detecting insurance fraud and other illegal conduct, also via the system established for this purpose,
- our contractual partners, whether these companies are in or outside the Generali Group, such as our distributors, assistance service providers, independent claims adjusters, physicians, experts, information technology suppliers, postal services providers,
- other entities in cases when we are obliged to provide your data in accordance with legal regulations or if it is necessary to protect our legitimate interests (e.g., courts, bailiffs),
- shareholders in a limited scope in reporting.

7. How long will your data be stored?

We process your personal data for the duration of the insurance. On termination of the insurance, we will store your personal data for the limitation period, during which any claim from the terminated insurance may be exercised, and additionally for a period of one year after expiry despite the limitation period for any claim. Apart from this, we also process your personal data in the event of continued or repeated financial performance from the arranged insurance and for the period of any potential judicial disputes or other proceedings.

8. What are your rights?

You have, in particular, the right to access the personal data we process about you, the right to rectification of inaccurate or incomplete data and the right to submit a complaint to the Office for Personal Data Protection, Pplk. Sochora 27, 170 00 Prague 7, Czech Republic, www.uouu.cz. In situations anticipated by the legislation, you also have the right to erasure of personal data relating to you or to restrict its processing or to the portability of your data and the right to object to its processing.

You have the right, at any time, free of charge, to object to the processing of your personal data which we perform due to our legitimate interests, including profiling.

9. How can you contact our Data Protection Officer?

You may contact our Data Protection Officer with your requests, queries or complaints at the address Generali Česká pojišťovna a.s., Department of Personal Data Protection Management, Na Pankráci 1720/123, 140 00 Prague 4, Czech Republic, dpo@generaliceska.cz.
